Memorandum

TO : SAC, CHICAGO (92-1816)

DATE: February 10, 1965

FROM : [REDACTED], COFFILATION CLLEK

SUBJECT: ANGILO JANNOTTA, aka.
RIBS
Anti-Packeteering

It should be noted that this memo contains only identical criminal references.

I. DISCUSSION

62-5278-2

Chicago by letter to Los Angeles dated January 28, 1957 entitled [REDACTED] furnished a blind memorandum, which had been prepared upon request of Lieutenant [REDACTED] Los Angeles Police Department. At discretion, Los Angeles was to furnish Lieutenant [REDACTED] or furnish him information therefrom.

Said blind memorandum reflected that according to the "Chicago Sun Times" of April 20, 1956, Internal Revenue agents seized eight men in a wine room at 6895 North Mannheim Road, Des Plaines, Illinois. This raid was carried out with a search warrant charging operation of a gambling place without a $50 tax stamp. According to the Internal Revenue agents, the Des Plaines gambling room was part of a nation-wide betting syndicate lay-off system.

Included in listing of those arrested was ANGILO JANNOTTA, 43, 545 North Wood Street, Chicago, Illinois.

On May 18, 1956, Chicago Sun Times, reported that a federal indictment was returned against six of the eight men arrested in the Des Plaines raid.

copy [REDACTED] "Chicago Herald-American", Facing edition, February 21, 1952, states that ANGILO "RIBS" JANNOTTA, 43, of 545 North Wood Street, Chicago, Illinois, an insurance broker and Democratic Captain of the 30th Precinct, 28th Ward, under Alderman PLTRONL (D), was seized for questioning in regard to the February 6, 1952 slaying of CHARLES GROSS. JANNOTTA was taken to the Detective Bureau Lockup where Chicago Police Department records show he was fined $10 in June of 1945 on a morals charge and fined $15 in June of 1947 on a disorderly conduct charge. He formerly was a Municipal Court Custodian.

II. GENERAL CRIMINAL ACTIVITIES

26-17562-63 pages 9 & 12

On December 10, 1951, [] of known reliability, advised SA [] information relative to the investigation of []

[] stated that sometime within the preceding two weeks he had been contacted by an individual known to him as "FIBS", who formerly operated the Atomic Lounge Tavern on Chicago Avenue. This meeting between [] and "FIBS" took place in a store located at []

During the conversation [] had with "FIBS", "FIBS" at that time stated that he understood [] was in the market for a new automobile and that he had a friend who was desirous of disposing of a 1951 Cadillac. [] told "FIBS" that he had recently purchased a car and was not interested, but referred "FIBS" to a friend of his who operated a used car lot, one [] who in turn referred "FIBS" or his associates to [] another used car dealer located at []. [] later learned that [] had purchased this Cadillac auto from two individuals sent there by "FIBS".

[] maintained that he had no knowledge that this car was a stolen auto until several days thereafter when [] telephonically contacted him and told him that he had learned the car was stolen. Thereupon [] contacted "FIBS" and expressed his indignation at having been placed in the middle of this transaction.

CG 92-1816

"FIBS" thereupon arranged for a meeting between [] and the two individuals who had possession of the car. [] met these men on a street corner, at which time they gave him $2,300, which [] in turn gave to []

The informant advised [] was very much incensed over having been duped by "FIBS" and the other two individuals and in his opinion would be willing to give full information agents concerning this matter.

[] Chicago, Illinois, advised that on November 28, 1951 or November 29, 1951, he was in a cigar store on the south-west corner of Grand and May, and that a person known only to him as "FIBS", whom he described as 5'2", 110 pounds, about 45 years old, medium build, partially bald, hair black, residing in the building on the southeast corner of Ohio and Wood, and operated the Atomic Lounge, Chicago Avenue and Hoyne from 1948 to 1949, approached him and asked him if he knew anyone who wanted to buy a 1951 Cadillac convertible.

[] said that he referred him to [] whom he had known for a number of years as an auto dealer. "FIBS" told [] that a friend from the east coast was in Chicago, intended to stay in Chicago about six months, was out of money and wanted to sell his car.

b6
b7D

[] continued that on December 3, 1951, he received a call from [] that this particular Cadillac was thought to be stolen. [] immediately went to the Cigar Store mentioned above and inquired there how he might get in touch with "FIBS". [] related that someone whom he did not know went into the phone booth in the cigar store and evidently called "FIBS".

[] talked with "FIBS" on the telephone and told "FIBS" that he thought that the Cadillac was stolen. "FIBS" told him that he would have the fellows who owned the car get in touch with him at once in the cigar store.

According to [] shortly thereafter subject [] whom [] identified by photograph shown him by the writer, but whose name he said he did not know, accompanied by another man appeared in the cigar store.

Page 82 reflected information from a "Chicago Sun Times" article of April 20, 1956, where Internal Revenue agents seized eight men in a wire room at 6895 North Mannheim Road in Des Plaines, Illinois. This raid was carried out with a search warrant charging an operation of a gambling place without a $50.00 tax stamp.

According to the Internal Revenue agents, the Des Plaines gambling room was a part of a nation-wide betting syndicate lay-off system.

Included in listing of the men arrested in this raid was ANGELO JANNOTTA, 43, of 545 North Wood Street, Chicago, Illinois.

On November 5, 1959, Chicago Daily Tribune, Three Star Sports Final edition, page 11, column 1, part 4, carried an article captioned "FIVIAL MOPL OF DL GRAZIO'S PAST WITH MOB", further "BARLLY LECAPED APFLST IN 1953 PAID."

Said article reflected that [redacted]

[redacted] recently after disclosure he is touring Europe with TONY ACCARDO, crime syndicate boss, almost went to jail February 27, 1953, when he was found with hoodlums in a gambling establishment. The Tribune learned Wednesday.

Four squads from the Scotland Yard Detail raided the gambling room behind a barber shop at 539 North Racine Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. They found cards and card tables and evidence race sheets had been on the walls. Many items obviously had been disposed of while they were breaking down the door.

Light men were arrested in and near the place. They were charged only with disorderly conduct because gambling was not in progress when the raiders got in. The charges were dismissed the next day.

The raid resulted from an investigation which established that several of those found in the place were associates of JOSEPH (JOE) GLIMCO, hoodlum currently battling to retain his presidency of Local 777, Taxicab Drivers Union.

Included in the listing of hoodlums who were hauled off to jail-unaccompanied by [redacted] and their addresses and ages, was ANGALO JANNOTTA, 45, of 545 North Wood Street, Chicago, Illinois.

92-466-762 p. 17

He understood that one of NICHOLAS's foresons was a doctor.

He did not know what ANGELO did for a living or who his associates were.

H. Employments

A review of records of the United States Penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kansas, revealed that subject's work record shows that he worked for two years for the Chicago Title and Trust Company; one year with the Post Office as a Special Delivery boy; as a water boy for a construction company; in his father's cigar store; and since 1931 until the time of his arrest as a Custodian in the Bailiff's Office, Municipal Court, Chicago.

Records of Hale-Prietsch Service, 209 West Jackson, Chicago, reveal the following information concerning subject in a report dated January 2, 1948:

IDENTITY:

"Angelo Jannotta is thirty-nine years old and he is married to Agnes Jannotta. Mrs. Jannotta is thirty-seven years old. There are no children. Residence of the subject is at 545 N. Wood Street, Chicago--a lower middle class residential neighborhood--where he has been for the past several years. It is understood that the Jannotta family has been at this address for some twenty or so years, however, Mrs. Jannotta when commercially interviewed at this time claims that she and the subject have been here this time for about the past six or seven years. They occupy a third floor apartment in a three story building and the building is claimed to be owned by the parents of the subject, Mr. and

Mrs. Nick Jannotta.

"Jannotta is a brother of one Carmen Jannotta. The latter is owner and operator of the Carmen Roofing and Siding Company, 3835 West Chicago Avenue, Chicago; also maintaining telephone service for the business at 545 N. Wood Street, Chicago. Our files on the brother, Carmen, date back a few years and information in these files shows the brother, Carmen, to be a fairly large operator in the roofing and siding field and he is shown to have a clean record in this business.

"Father of the subject, Nick Jannotta, husband of Elizabeth Jannotta, resides on the second floor at 545 N. Wood Street. He is an insurance broker.

OCCUPATION AND INCOME:

"Jannotta has some interest in a tavern known as the Club Atomic located at 2053 W. Chicago Avenue, Chicago. We have been unable to interview the subject either at the home address or at the place of business.

"Mrs. Jannotta claims that the subject is a partner in this tavern with one [redacted] --phonetic spelling-- and she further states that the subject has had this partnership interest now for the past five or six months. She was quite vague as to the actual time he became interested here. When inquiry was made at 2053 W. Chicago Avenue for the subject he was referred to as "the one in charge" or the "manager." [redacted] was not available for interview here although informant here indicated that [redacted] was one of the interested parties in the business. Informant here was not identified by name but represented as an employee.

"The income which the subject receives from this business could not be ascertained. When Mrs. Jannotta was interviewed she indicated that from various sources the subject probably had income of around $1000 a month, including the tavern business, writing some insurance, and through working for his brother, Carmen, in the roofing business.

CG 92-1316

It is claimed that the subject has worked for the brother for the past several years, mainly in sales promotion work. The father is an insurance broker and the subject is also claimed to have some activity in this respect. No confirmation could be secured on the implied earnings of the subject.

"Mrs. Jannotta is said to not be employed.

ASSETS:

"Subject, according to statement of Mrs. Jannotta does not own real estate. Tangible assets are represented by home furnishings, a 1941 Mercury car, and the usual personality. The extent of his investment in the Club Atomic could not be ascertained. This establishment is of modest size and mainly a neighborhood tavern.

"No title search has been made on the property at 545 N. Wood Street, Chicago. According to statement of Mrs. Jannotta, wife of the subject, the title to this property is held by the parents of Jannotta, Nick and Elizabeth Jannotta, and also that said property is clear of encumbrance. Her inference is that she and the subject rent the apartment from his parents although do not have any formal lease."

These records are confidential and can be obtained only through the issuance of a subpoena duces tecum directed to Hale-Prietsch Service, 209 West Jackson, Chicago, Illinois.

On February 16, 1965, a review of the indices of the Illinois Department of Insurance, Room 1600, 160 North LaSalle Street, Chicago, revealed a card for ANGELO JANNOTTA, 545 North Wood Street, dated March 1, 1964, under number 18210. Inquiry revealed no additional information was available concerning this individual in Chicago.

[redacted] Department of Insurance, Springfield, Illinois, advised on April 23, 1965, that ANGELO JANNOTTA, 545 North Wood Street, Chicago, Illinois, has been licensed in Illinois as a general insurance broker since 1933 and that any records prior to 1958 have been destroyed. At the office of the Clerk of the United States District Court on January 22, 1957, it was ascertained that captioned individuals are the subjects of Case Docket #56 CR 310 and were indicted by the May, 1956 Grand Jury in that they did engage in the business of accepting wagers and were therefore persons liable for special tax imposed by Section 4411 of Internal Revenue Code of 1954; and that these individuals attempted to evade and destroy records of the wages in violation of Section 7201 Internal Revenue Code of 1954. These records reflected that [redacted] ANGELO JANNOTTA, [redacted]

[redacted] all posted $1500 bond on May 18, 1956. There is no indication of subsequent action by the court in this case.

Eight men were arrested in and near the place. They were charged only with disorderly conduct because gambling was not in progress when the raiders got in. The charges were dismissed the next day.

Proxy Pays Traffic Fine

CARPENTERSVILLE — Angelo "Ribs" Jannotta of Chicago paid a $15 traffic ticket fine and $10 court costs in Carpentersville circuit court Monday afternoon.

Jannotta, an associate of Chicago crime syndicate figure Sam Battaglia, appeared in behalf of Rocco Salvatore, reputed by authorities to be Battaglia's "right hand man."

Jannotta is presently subject of contempt proceedings for refusing to answer the questions of State Fire Marshal William Cowhey concerning the $40,000 barn fire on Battaglia's property near Hampshire July 5.

Salvatore recuperating from a week in St. Anne's Hospital in Chicago after an operation, Jannotta told Magistrate Donald T. Anderson Jannotta asked the court for a continuance. It was denied.

The ticket was issued to Salvatore, alias Bobby Dore, April 12 for driving 76 miles an hour in a 50 mile zone on Rt. 20 near Udina.

State troopers Wes Johnson and Howard Pamplin of District 2, who stopped the car, also believe that Battaglia was the passenger in the car at the time.

When the first court date scheduled for May arrived, a Melrose Park police sergeant appeared in the Carpentersville court instead of Salvatore.

Sgt. Dominic Cimino interceded for Salvatore, he said, on the basis of his "good reputation" and "sound standing as a citizen," according to authorities. Cimino told the court that Salvatore needed his car for his work and that court action against him over the matter would be a "great imposition," said police officials.

Salvatore has been convicted of being a "keeper of hand-book," was involved in the Casa Madrid gambling operations in Melrose Park, and has been arrested on suspicion of murder. The ticket, however, was stricken with leave to reinstate and Salvatore temporarily escaped the charge.

But, learning of the decision, state police requested the district attorney's office to reinstate the charge and it was scheduled for court once again July 25.

On July 23, Salvatore made several phone calls to Elgin court officials about the case.

Two days later, he appeared and reposted $25 bond and said he would waive jury trial but wanted to be tried by magistrate with aid of legal counsel. The Aug. 8 court date was set.

Salvatore named George Gue-rine of Melrose Park as his attorney, but instead when court time approached Monday, it was Jannotta who appeared for Salvatore.

ANGELO PETER JANNOTTA, 545 N. Wood Street, Chicago, Illinois was observed at the Municipal Building, Carpentersville, Illinois at 1:20 PM on August 8, 1966. As SA [] entered the building JANNOTTA walked out the same door and said to SA [] "Why the (obscene) don't you leave me alone?" He entered the building a few minutes later and was asked to step outside for a minute. He was advised that his comment could be taken in the nature of a threat and that SA [] desired clarification of his remarks. He stated he was only joking when he made the comment and that he wanted no hard feelings. He furnished the following information:

Although ROCCO SALVATORE was to have appeared in court there on a traffic charge he was recently operated on for hemorrhoids and could not be there. He just left St. Ann's Hospital in Chicago after being there for eight days and was still recuperating. SALVATORE had Attorney [] call the "judge" that morning and tell him he could not be there and requested a continuance. [] could not make it so he asked JANNOTTA to appear in court for him. He advised that it was true he had driven SALVATORE's car there which was parked in front.

He stated that he realized that the Agent was just doing his job and thought it was too bad he had been "sent" all the way out to Carpentersville just to see what happened. He stated that the FBI was investigating the "wrong people" and that there was no such thing as "the-outfit" or "mafia" and that it's the "Irish Mafia" and "Jewish Mafia," and politicians that the FBI should get. He stated SAM BATTAGLIA was not the head of anything. He and his people never hurt anybody and that "gambling" wasn't any crime because people did it every day at the racetrack. He and his people don't carry guns and have no reason to because they never hurt anybody.

He advised BATTAGLIA is just a farmer and horse breeder. He has known BATTAGLIA for 35 years and respects him greatly. BATTAGLIA has worked hard all of his life. He described BATTAGLIA as a great "builder" and "designer" and pointed out the wonderful things he had done at the farm and how BATTAGLIA loves to design things. There are not many horses at the farm now because they have gotten rid of the second rate breeders and are now concentrating only on high quality horses.

He advised that he was at one time a bailiff in court in Chicago and had fixed many traffic cases for people and could not understand why there was so much bother about the ticket SALVATORE got. He stated the judges and lawyers were the crooked ones anyway.

He advised that he does not file income tax returns because he does not work and has no income. He lives in his father-in-law's building and his wife is too ill to work. He stated his father-in-law claimed him as a dependent for tax purposes. He has no money worries because all his family are successful and if he needed help he could get it. He used to work in gambling rooms when it was "legal" but just goes out to the farm with BATTAGLIA and "putters around" in his little garden there.

He stated he knew that he and his friends were followed by the FBI all the time but they did not mind and wouldn't do "anything" anyway until they know there was nobody around.

He advised he contracted tuberculosis two years ago however it has been arrested. Otherwise, he is in good health.

Leighton Demands Daily News Correct Story on Judges' Hours

Judge George N. Leighton of Circuit court today demanded that The Chicago Daily News "publish a correction" of an article alleging that a number of the county's $29,000-a-year judges average only 3 hours a day on the bench.

The newspaper story mentioned a number of judges, including Leighton, by name.

The judge held a press conference this morning and released the following text of a telegram he sent to the editor of The Daily News:

"I demand that your newspaper publish a correction of the article published on the first page of your issue of Saturday, Oct. 29, 1966, which mentioned me by name.

"To begin with, I have never left my court before 5 o'clock in the evening. Therefore, your article is in error in reporting that on June 21, 27, Sept. 1, 2, 15, 16, 30, I was away from my official duties at an early hour.

"Secondly, your article refers to charges made against judges, including me by name. I know of no charges made by anyone concerning my official duties as a judge of the Circuit court of Cook county.

"In the interview I gave the young lady from your office, I told her that I believe that every judge should maintain hours of duty commensurate with the needs of his office. These hours vary between 9 in the morning to 5 in the evening.

"I told the young lady that the value of a judge, in the final analysis, is his availability with experience and judgment, to decide important questions. I did not mean to suggest that judges of the Circuit court of Cook county should not maintain adequate hours in their court.

"For your information, I am in my courtroom each morning, either at 9 or 10 o'clock, and sometimes as late as 12 in the evening, awaiting verdicts.

"For example, your newspaper article reports that on Sept. 30, 1966, I left my courtroom at 3:30 p. m. As a matter of fact, the records of my court show that, at 6:45 p. m. on Sept. 30, 1966, I was in my chambers waiting for a jury to return a verdict in the case of George Brown vs. Angelo Janotta, Case No. 61C1475.

"In view of the inaccuracy of your article, and erroneous impression created by its contents, fairness requires that you publish a correction of the contents of your article of Saturday, Oct. 29, 1966.

"I am calling a press conference in my chambers for Monday, Oct. 31, 1966, at 9:30 a. m., to distribute the information I have given you in this telegram."

Reveal Mob Links to Insurance Firms

BY ROBERT WIEDRICH

Two top aids of crime syndicate bosses hold state insurance brokers' licenses despite their convictions for crimes in federal District court, a TRIBUNE investigation disclosed yesterday.

The mob figures are Angelo (Ribs) Jannotta, 545 N. Wood st., a close adviser on gambling to Sam (Teetz) Battaglia, operating boss of the Chicago mob, and Donald Angelini, 41, of 912 Euclid st., Elmhurst, a bookmaking lieutenant for Fiore (Fifi) Buccieri, high ranking loan shark, juke box racketeer, and gambling boss.

Licensed Since 1933

Both have been licensed as insurance brokers by the Illinois department of insurance since 1933, the TRIBUNE inquiry revealed. Both have been convicted in federal court.

Jannotta, who lists his home as his business address, entered the Leavenworth federal penitentiary Nov. 17, 1934, after conviction in Chicago for violating federal narcotics laws. He had been found guilty Oct. 25, 1934, of selling an ounce of dope to an undercover government agent.

Angelini was fined $2,500 and served a 60-day jail sentence after his conviction in federal court Feb. 17, 1934, as boss of a crime syndicate on-track bookmaking ring at Sportsman's park.

Angelini and 14 others were arrested in 1963 at the park on information furnished by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Angelini is known to authorities as operator of the Angel-Kaplan Sports News Service, Inc., 236 N. Clark st. He was also one of the incorporators of the North State Insurance Agency, Inc., at the same address.

The agency lists as its quarters with the state insurance department room 800 at 236 N. Clark st. The entire eighth floor of the building also houses the sports news service which provides betting odds for gamblers thruout the nation.

Could Lose Licenses

On Nov. 27, 1934, Angelini's name was deleted from the authorized members of the agency in a form filed with the state. This was done after Angelini's conviction.

John Bolton, state insurance director, said action would be taken to revoke the brokers' licenses held by Jannotta and Angelini if a state inquiry substantiates THE TRIBUNE's disclosures.

Jannotta and Angelini brought to three the number of top crime syndicate aids who, THE TRIBUNE learned, hold state licenses.

Last Monday THE TRIBUNE disclosed that Dominick (Butch) Blasi, chauffeur and bodyguard to Sam (Momo) Giancana, deposed operating mob boss, was holder of a state real estate broker's license even tho he has been twice convicted in federal courts here and in Milwaukee.

Blasi served five years in Leavenworth for counterfeiting and was placed on probation for 18 months for the possession of an unregistered automatic weapon, a machine gun.

Need Good Character

One of the requisites for holding a state permit is that a person be of good moral character and reputation. The records of Jannotta and Angelini bear a few blemishes.

Jannotta, who accompanies Battaglia each day to the mob chief's 400 acre farm near Elgin, is listed as an undesirable at race tracks in Chicago and Miami.

Jannotta journeys often to Florida with Battaglia and began his rise in crime syndicate circles four or five years ago when he manned a West Grand avenue bookmaking joint for Battaglia with Joseph (Joe Shine) Amabile, Battaglia's chief lieutenant.

Angelini has been repeatedly identified by detectives of the Chicago police intelligence division as the operating boss of bookmaking rings in Buccieri's domain. He shares this command with Dominic Cortina, another Buccieri aid.

Appealed to High Court

Investigators said that Buccieri places so great a value on Angelini's services that his conviction for violating internal-revenue service gambling laws was appealed unsuccessfully, thru the United States Court of Appeals to the United States Supreme court.

The influx of gangsters into such legitimate business fields as real estate and insurance, it was reported, results from the continuing pressure placed on the gambling and rackets operations of the Battaglia and Buccieri groups by the FBI.

LICENSED CROOKS

Chicago and Cook county could make more progress in the campaign to keep the crime syndicate out of legitimate business fields if the state of Illinois gave more cooperation. For example:

One of the requirements for obtaining a state license is that the applicant be of good moral character and reputation. Nevertheless, investigations by THE TRIBUNE have shown that three top crime syndicate figures hold state licenses.

One of them is Dominick (Butch) Blasi, chauffeur and bodyguard for Sam Giancana, the deposed operating head of the syndicate. Blasi holds a state real estate broker's license, altho he has been convicted in federal courts here and in Milwaukee.

State insurance brokers' licenses are held by Angelo (Ribs) Jannotta and Donald Angelini, both of whom have been convicted in federal courts. Jannotta is an adviser on gambling to Sam Battaglia, who recently was found guilty of extortion conspiracy. Angelini advises Fiore (Fifi) Buccieri, a loan shark, juke box racketeer, and gambling boss.

State officials now have moved to revoke the licenses of the three gangsters. The revocation proceedings would not be necessary if the licenses never had been issued.

Better investigation of all applicants for state licenses obviously is essential. A bill now before the legislature would be helpful in this area. The measure, drafted by State's Atty. John J. Stamos, would require the finger printing of all applicants for state and local liquor licenses.

A Chicago ordinance requires finger printing, and the city by this means has managed to keep convicted criminals from open operation of saloons. Suburban communities have no such requirement, and notorious hoodlums have obtained liquor licenses. Finger printing of applicants ought to be mandatory all over the state, as it is in Chicago.

Move to Take Hoods' Insurance Licenses

State officials yesterday moved to revoke insurance and real estate broker's licenses held by three top crime syndicate gangsters.

John Bolton, state insurance director, ordered a hearing to be held later this month seeking the revocation of insurance broker's licenses held by Angelo (Ribs) Jannotta, 545 N. Wood st., a close adviser on gambling to Sam (Teetz) Battaglia, operating boss of the Chicago mob, and Donald Angelini, 41, of 912 Euclid st., Elmhurst, a bookmaking boss for Fiore (Fifi) Buccieri, a loan shark and gambling and juke box rackets chieftain.

Moves Against Blasi

Meanwhile, John C. Watson, state director of registration and education, scheduled a similar hearing for June 21 in a move to revoke the state real estate broker's license held by Dominick (Butch) Blasi, chauffeur and bodyguard for Sam (Momo) Giancana, the deposed mob boss now hiding in South and Central America.

Both state agencies acted thru Richard Eagleton, the United States attorney at Springfield, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation to obtain certified copies of the convictions of the three gangsters in federal District courts.

Walter Kasten, the insurance department's attorney, said he had requested copies of Jannotta's 1934 conviction for violation of federal narcotics laws and Angelini's conviction in 1964 as czar of an on-track bookmaking ring at Sportsman's park.

Has Two Convictions

The record of Blasi's two federal court convictions was also requested by state authorities. The cases involve a 1936 five-year sentence for counterfeiting and a 1950 conviction for the possession of an unregistered automatic weapon, a machine gun.

State officials said they would also obtain from various police departments certified copies of other arrests that appear on the police records of the three mobsters.

Received License in July

Blasi has held a real estate broker's license since last July and uses it to operate the Park Avenue Realty company at 4907 Chicago av. Blasi lives at 1133 Park av., River Forest.

Jannotta and Angelini have held state insurance broker's licenses since 1953.

Angelini operates the Angel-Kaplan Sports News Service, Inc., 236 N. Clark st., and was one of the incorporators of the North State Insurance Agency, Inc., of the same address.

State Moves Against Mobsters

'On the Legit'

1 Loses License as 3 Others Face Probe

BY ROBERT WIEDRICH

State officials took action yesterday to trim the number of Chicago mobsters who have invaded the insurance and real estate business.

Acting on information developed by THE TRIBUNE and federal authorities, two state agencies moved against four crime syndicate hoodlums who have been operating behind the facade of state licenses which had been issued or retained in violation of the law.

Here are the actions taken:

1. State Insurance Director John F. Bolton Jr. revoked the insurance agent's and broker's million dollar silver hijacking gang.

Blasi Faces Inquiry

2. Director John C. Watson of the state department of registration and education ordered a hearing for 11 a. m. today in a move to revoke the state real estate broker's license held by Dominic (Butch) Blasi, ex-convict, chauffeur, and bodyguard for Sam (Momo) Giancana, exiled operating boss of the Chicago mob.

3. Director Bolton instituted action that could lead to the revocation of insurance broker's licenses held by two other gangland figures.

They are Angelo (Ribs) Jannotta, 545 N. Wood st., gambling adviser to Sam (Teetz) Battaglia, the recently convicted crime syndicate boss, and Donald Angelini, 41, of 912 Euclid st., Elmhurst, a bookmaking lieutenant for Fiore (Fiji) Buccieri, high ranking gambling and loan shark boss.

Varelli, who is a next door neighbor of Paul (The Waiter) Ricca, hoodlum elder statesman, lost his insurance agent's and broker's licenses because he falsified the application he filed June 23, 1952.

Convicted in 1943

According to Bolton, Varelli neglected to inform the state that he had been convicted of two counts of burglary in 1943 and had pleaded guilty to a charge of interstate theft in 1961. In 1963, Varelli was identified by the Senate rackets committee as a member of the Mafia's inner circle on the west side.

Varelli's record as an ex-convict and mob figure apparently did not cramp his style as an insurance man. Records show that a year after he was licensed, Varelli was honored for his sales of more than 1 million dollars in new life insurance.

Varelli achieved his success as a representative of the Granite Insurance agency, Ltd., 6809 North av., Oak Park.

Bolton also fined Varelli $500. It was expected that word of the fate of his career in insurance would be forwarded to Varelli at the county jail, where he has been in a cell since his sentencing June 27. Varelli was denied bond pending appeal. Judge Bernard M. Decker of federal District court termed him and five other defendants "a continuing menace and danger to the community."

The hearing on Blasi's real estate broker's license will be held in room 1120 of the State of Illinois building, 160 N. La Salle st. Blasi has held a license since 1944, altho he has been twice convicted in federal courts. He has been operating the Park Avenue Realty company, 4907 Chicago av.

The action against Jannotta and Angelini hinges on the receipt by state authorities of certified copies of their convictions in federal court. Jannotta was convicted in 1934 of federal narcotics violations. Angelini was convicted in 1964 as boss of an on-track bookmaking ring at Sportsman's Park.

Walter Kasten, an insurance department attorney, said hearings would be held in Springfield once the United States attorney there obtains the documents from United States Atty. Edward V. Hanrahan in Chicago.

2 Syndicate Figures Face License Action

The state Department of Insurance hopes to revoke the brokers' licenses of two more syndicate hoodlums found to have felony convictions.

They are Angelo (Ribs) Jannotta, 54, gambling adviser to deposed mob chieftain Sam Battaglia, and Donald Angelini, 41, bookmaking boss for Fiore Buccieri.

John (The Bug) Varelli, who was convicted in a million-dollar hijacking case June 7, lost his licenses yesterday as an insurance broker and agent.

Plan Early Hearings

Pressing his war against syndicate-tainted companies, State Insurance Director John F. Bolton Jr. said hearings on Jannotta and Angelini will be held soon.

Jannotta, of 545 N. Wood st., was convicted in 1934 for violation of federal narcotics laws. Angelini, 912 Euclid st., Elmhurst, was caught running a bookmaking operation at Sportsman's park in 1964.

Angelini was one of the founders of the North State Insurance agency, 236 N. Clark st. After his conviction, he was dropped as an officer of the firm, but kept his license.

Bolton did not say whether Jannotta operated an insurance agency, or for what purpose he used his insurance broker's license.

Get Federal Information

The mobsters' convictions were revealed last April, Bolton said, thru information obtained from the United States attorney's office in Springfield.

He said that hearings to revoke their licenses will be held as soon as complete records can be obtained from the United States attorney in Chicago, where they were convicted.

In a similar action, the state department of registration will hold hearings today to revoke the real estate operator's license of Dominick (Butch) Blasi, 46.

The department, which is the licensing agency for real estate operations, discovered that Blasi was convicted in 1936 for failing to register a machine gun.

Blasi, of 1138 Park av., River Forest, operates the Park avenue Realty Co., 4907 Chicago av. He was chauffeur and bodyguard for Sam Giancana before Giancana went into exile.

State Moves to Bar 2 Hoods in Insurance

Will Set Hearing for Revocation of Licenses

Hearings in an attempt to revoke the insurance brokers licenses held by two crime syndicate hoodlums will be held within a month, John Bolton, state insurance director, reported yesterday.

Bolton ordered his executive assistant, Dennis O'Brien, to assist department legal aids in preparing evidence to be presented against the mobsters at revocation hearings in Springfield.

The state has been gathering information against the mobsters since THE TRIBUNE disclosed last April 29 they were licensed as brokers despite their convictions in federal District court for crimes.

Advises on Gambling

The gangsters are Angelo [Ribs] Jannotta, 545 N. Wood st., a close adviser on gambling to Sam [Teetz] Battaglia, the recently jailed mob chief; and Donald Angelini, 912 Euclid st., Elmhurst, a bookmaking lieutenant for Fiore [Fifi] Bucieri, a loan shark and gambling boss.

Both men have been licensed by the state since 1933.

O'Brien reported that certified copies of the convictions had been sent to the insurance department by Edward V. Hanrahan, the United States attorney.

At the same time, state investigators are gathering from law enforcement agencies information concerning the underworld associations of the two brokers.

Convicted on Dope Charge

Jannotta, who gives his home address as his place of business, was convicted in 1934 of selling dope to an undercover federal agent. He served time in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas.

Angelini served a 60-day jail sentence and was fined $2,500 after being convicted in federal District court in 1964 as the boss of a mob-operated on-track bookmaking ring at Sportsman's Park.

Served as Bodyguard

Proceedings by the state department of registration and education to revoke the real estate broker's license held by another mobster were delayed pending an opinion by Illinois Atty. Gen. William Clark.

Clark has been asked to determine the legality of the proceedings involving Dominic [Butch] Blasi, the crime syndicate muscleman who served as a bodyguard and chauffeur for Sam [Momo] Giancana before Giancana took a voluntary exile in Mexico from his post as mob operating boss.

The state moved against Blasi after THE TRIBUNE disclosed the gangster had failed to list on his application for a broker's license a 1950 federal court conviction in Milwaukee for the unlawful possession of a German machine pistol.

Ira Dawson, assistant director of registration and education, said Atty. Gen. Clark has been asked to give an opinion on whether Blasi's conviction in Milwaukee, plus one four counterfeiting in 1935, disqualify the mobster from holding a broker's license.

At a hearing July 19, Blasi contended thru his attorneys that a 1966 opinion by Clark protected Blasi from being stripped of his license. The opinion held that an applicant must have been convicted in the Illinois courts in order to be disqualified. Federal court convictions do not count against the applicant, Blasi's lawyers said.

Insurance Director Revokes Gambler's Brokerage Permit

State Insurance Director John Bolton Monday revoked the brokerage license of Angelo Jannotta, West Side gambler and former adviser to Sam (Teetz) Battaglia, operating boss of the Chicago crime syndicate who is now in prison.

Bolton said his department would continue to ferret out underworld elements from the insurance industry.

Besides revoking Jannotta's license, Bolton fined the mobster $1,000 for insurance license fraud.

'Continuing Effort'

"This was part of a continuing effort by the Department of Insurance to rid the insurance industry of any hoodlum influence," Bolton said. He added that Jannotta was the "fifth or sixth" syndicate-connected broker whose license has been revoked in the last two years.

Bolton said action was still pending against another mob gambling figure, Donald Angelini, 41, of 912 Euclid, Elm-hurst.

Investigations have revealed that Angelini and Jannotta, of 545 N. Wood, held state insurance licenses although both have been convicted of federal offenses.

Good Reputation Asked

A requirement for obtaining a state insurance license is that the license holder be of good moral character and reputation.

Jannotta was convicted in 1934 of selling heroin to federal undercover agent in Chicago. Angelini served a 60-day sentence in 1964 after being convicted of conducting book-making ring at Sportsman's Park.

Evidence against Jannotta was heard last week in Springfield by State Insurance Counseling Deputy Richard Williams. Williams Monday granted a continuance until March 18 in Angelini's case because Angelini's attorney, Ann Lavin, could not be present at a hearing.

RE: FINANCIAL DATA SHEET

The Special Prosecutions Unit (SPU), United States Attorney's Office, Chicago, is extremely interested in the potential of developing prosecutable cases against organized crime figures and their associates for possible violations of the Federal Reserve Act (FRA) and Federal Housing Administration Matters (FHAM).

The FRA, Title 18, United States Code, Section 1014, relates to Federal Savings and Loan Associations and prohibits making of false statements to such institutions for the purpose of influencing any action. Penalty is $5,000 fine or two years or both. Federal Savings and Loan Associations are Federally chartered institutions and have the word Federal in their name, such as First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

The most common type of violation under the above mentioned section of the FRA would be a false statement made to a Federal Savings and Loan in order to obtain a mortgage for a residence. A typical example would be an individual who has no legitimate employment because he is solely engaged in illegal activities, and therefore must falsely state on his mortgage application to the Federal Savings and Loan that he is the owner or employee of a certain business and has adequate salary or resources to qualify for such a loan.

An example of this type of violation developed as part of this project to date is where a well known hoodlum made a mortgage application to a Federal Savings and Loan listing employment with an existing Illinois Construction firm and showing a yearly salary adequate to pay off the loan.

Two alleged payroll checks were furnished the Savings and Loan as proof of this employment, however, inquiry by IRS revealed these checks were the only two checks ever issued the subject by that firm. The owner acted in collusion with the subject and is therefore also subject to prosecution.

FHAM, Title 18, United States Code, Section 1010, makes it a violation to submit willful false or fraudulent statements in matters to be submitted to the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), for insurance or to influence HUD action. In effect this covers all FHA loans. The most common type of violation of this section are false statements to any Bank or Savings and Loan Association made to obtain a Title I Home Improvement Loan. The false statements again usually involve employment and income showing ability to repay the loan.

Penalty for violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1010, is $5,000 fine or two years of both.

As an example, a case now pending prosecution involved a hoodlum who obtained an FHA Home Improvement Loan from a suburban bank for a "new furnace" for his home and listed as employer a West Side Home Improvement Company. The company actually existed however the owner had never heard of or employed the subject. As an outgrowth of this case it was determined that a loan shark associate of the above hoodlum had made arrangements for one of his victims to obtain a $2,000 FHA home improvement loan at the same bank for a "back porch" in order to pay off his delinquent juice loan. The money was obtained, the juice loan repayed, but the porch was never built and the loan shark subject will be prosecuted for conspiracy. The ECT law had not been passed at the time of the loan and hence is not applicable.

The Statute of Limitations for both these violations is five (5) years.

The SPU is convinced that a financial survey of organized crime figures and associates will develop the fact that a number of them have violation provisions of the FRA and FHAM laws in obtaining mortgages or home improvement loans.

The SPU has requested the Chicago Office to furnish all available information regarding the type of loans mentioned above. Where the data cannot be obtained through a review of the file, logical investigation will be necessary. The most direct method of determining where an individual has obtained a mortgage is through a search of real estate records at the Recorder of Deeds Office in the appropriate county. This data is however often available simply by checking the records of the Hale-Prietsch Credit Reporting Agency, 209 West Jackson, Chicago, or other credit agencies.

Another method of determining where individuals have banking connections is to request the Motor Vehicle Section, Secretary of States Office, Springfield, to furnish lien data for vehicle registered there. It is noted Savings and Loans cannot mortgage vehicles.

The SPU has solicited and received the complete cooperation of the IRS in this regard even though FBI jurisdiction involved and the FBI will handle whatever violations developed. IRS is presently reviewing all pending Organized Crime investigations for information regarding mortgage and banking connections of hoodlums under investigation and this data will be furnished the SPU.

Once the initial objective of the survey is completed, that is to determine which individuals have mortgage or other type loans and which institutions are making them, the records will be subpoenaed by the SPU.

It is noted that where false statements are uncovered but no Federal violation involved the matter will be disseminated to State authorities for prosecutive action.

All agents are requested to institute file reviews and appropriate investigation necessary to complete the Financial Data Sheet. The SPU has requested that the appropriate data be made available to that office no later than ~~FEB~~ FEB 28, 1970. The Financial Data Sheet should be completed in duplicate prior to ~~FEB~~ FEB 25, 1970, the original maintained as top serial in the file and copy furnished to C-1 Supervisor.
